State auditor stops in Brandon on township meeting day

Brandon Township Clerk Mike Cleary received a call from the Minnesota State Auditor's office March 9 asking if would be available for a meeting with Minnesota State Auditor Julie Blaha on March 10, township annual meeting day in the state. Cleary said he would and the next day Blaha and her external affairs coordinator Megan Thrasher showed up about 10 a.m. to meet at the Brandon History Center. Also at the meeting were township officers Supervisor Dennis Lund and Treasurer Kathy Zimmerman, Brandon

City Clerk Deb Grommesh and Alan Roebke of Informed TV. Blaha asked questions about what was going on in Brandon Township. The annual meetings are where townships set their levy for the next year. Blaha said townships across the state strive to keep things as even as possible without too much of an increase even though it has to be increased as inflation rises. Cleary said roads are the major concern in the township. He said the township has $25,000 in its road fund but spends $130,000 on maintaining roads each year. When it comes to roads in the township the supervisors do some of the work and the township doesn't buy new but used and recently updated its grader from a 1990 to a 2007 model. Both Cleary and Grommesh brought up how the township and city work together to get things done and keep costs down for both entities. Blaha said she has seen partnerships between townships and cites across the state to help keep costs down. When the auditor asked

Cleary what would be on the agenda for that night's meeting he said besides the levy it would be gopher bounties. He explained there is an effort to get all townships in the county to adopt the same bounty for gophers, which can burrow and hurt buried cables. One concern brought up by Cleary was the increase of heavy vehicles on township gravel roads which cause accelerated and more frequent maintenance, gravel and grading. Brandon Township does try to pave roads as much as possible but when it does the money for the paving takes money from other areas.

Cleary is hoping the Minnesota Legislature can become more aware of road issues in townships. He mentioned there are more people moving into townships and they don't always realize not every road is paved as it was where they used to live. Blaha said she was on here way south on Interstate 94 to an appointment and thought it would be nice to talk to people on the township level on annual meeting day. Her coordinator spotted Brandon Township on the map and made the call and the meeting was set.

The auditor said the meeting and the discussion were very helpful and she was interested in what everyone was saying. "I couldn't think of a better way to begin this trip than by stopping here in Brandon," Blaha said. The hospitality at the meeting also included different kinds of donuts, which were enjoyed by all.

Evansville City Council hears audit report for 2019

The Evansville City Council at its meeting March 9 heard an audit report for the city's 2019 finances. The audit report was presented by Dean Birkeland of Carlson SV. The report showed no problems with the city's financial reporting. Two mistakes were found and corrected pages will be sent to the city so they can be put into the audit booklets. Monica Olson, representing Gardonville, was at the meeting to inform the council the co-op would like to present the council with a proposal for internet service in the city. Olson said a meeting with the council with others presenting the specifics of the proposal would be helpful. The council approved holding a special meeting, open to the public, for 2 p.m. April 14 to hear the proposal from Gardonville. A bid for painting the council chambers was received from MH Painting in the amount of $1,350. The council approved spending up to $1,000 for the painting at its February meeting. At the March meeting the council approved spending up to $1,500 for the painting project. In the Evansville Community Development report at the See COUNCIL, page 2.

March brings the promise of things to come. Our days are getting longer, the sun is warmer, and except for a few more winter setbacks, we are well on our way to Spring! What can you do to get a jumpstart on the gardening season? How about starting your own seeds and propagating your own plants?

Starting garden plants from seeds indoors can be an enjoyable project for any gardener, and is a relatively inexpensive way to grow a wide variety of plants. Seed catalogs have considerably more varieties, colors and cultivars than your local garden center, so if you just have to have a particular variety of tomato, or color of flower, starting your own might be the way to go.

If you have ever dug and divided your perennials, you have already practiced vegetative propagation. This type of propagation involves taking parts of a plant (stems, roots, and/or leaves) and causing them to develop into a new plant or, in some cases, several plants. With few exceptions, the resulting plant is genetically identical to the parent plant. The major types of vegetative propagation are cuttings, layering, division, separation, grafting, and budding. Advantages of vegetative propagation include:

- It may be easier and faster than seed starting for some species.
- It may be the only way to perpetuate particular cultivars.
- It maintains the juvenile or adult characteristics of certain cultivars.
- It allows propagation of special types of growth, such as weeping or pendulous forms.
- It may more quickly result in a large plant (compared to one propagated by seed)

For more information about plant propagation, join the University of Minnesota Extension Master Gardeners at their spring horticulture education day, Let's Get Growing, April 4, 2020, from 8:00-3:30 at Discovery Middle School, Alexandria, MN.

Dave Vaske, owner of Mil-tona Greenhouses and Nursery will present a two-part session on The Basics of Plant Propagation. The most common way to propagate a plant is to start with seed, and for many plants, this is the best way. However, in many situations starting from seed is a poor choice. The whys and how's of multiple types of plant propagation will be covered, and techniques for home gardeners to successfully propagate almost any plant will be introduced. This will be followed by Basics of Plant Propagation Demo, which will demonstrate techniques discussed at the earlier session.

Bill Cook, Professor of Biological Sciences at St. Cloud State University and Stearns County Extension Master Gardeners will present Seed Starting for Beginners. Gardeners can get a jump on spring vegetables and flowers and save some money by starting seeds indoors. We will cover basics of soils, watering, using artificial lights, heat and getting those seedlings successfully outside with recommendations on when to start commonly grown vegetables.

For more information, visit: www.extension.umn.edu/douglas, or contact University of Minnesota Extension, Douglas County, at 320-762-3890. You can also register online at z.umn.edu/LGG2020 Hope to see you there!

We often hear the playful question: "Which came first, the chicken or the egg?"

A gardener's version might be: "Which came first: the tree or the seed or the cutting?"

meeting Council member Deb Berry was proud to announce the cafe will be reopening hopefully by the end of May. She said it is her understanding the restaurant will offer breakfast and lunch as well as bakery items.

Promoting the city was discussed at the meeting and the consensus was there is a need to more raise the profile of the city.

To that end the council appointed council members Berry and Colleen Shores as a committee to look at ways to promote Evansville. The two will also look at ordering new banners to be hung throughout the town on utility poles and creating a presence on social media such as Facebook for the city. City Clerk Diana Olson will also be helping out with ideas on how to best promote the city.

The council also at the meeting accepted the resignation of maintenance worker Brett Anderson.

The next council meeting will be April 13 at 6:30 p.m.

Letter to the editor

Census, Census, Census... is it really that important? YES!

Data from the census will determine how much of the federal taxes that Minnesotans paid will return to Minnesota to fund schools, infrastructure repairs, transportation planning, Medicare, energy assistance, civil rights and advocacy programs, and more. It's also critical for representation, as Minnesota could possibly lose one of our eight congressional districts. This would mean that our representatives would have larger geography in their district boundaries. It also would mean that our representation at the state level could be from a suburban location and have a much more divided loyalty in terms of rural/metro issues.

Here is what you (yes, you!) can do to help make a big impact on increasing Minnesota's response rate.

Fill out your Census form as soon as you are notified. Residents will begin receiving their notice after March 12, which will invite them to fill out their Census form online. Yes, that's right, this is the first year we will be able to submit our information online—and it's secure!

If you're not comfortable with online submission or lack access to the internet, the notice also will list a number to call to provide your answers to a Census worker over the phone. Still unsure? You can call to request a paper form be sent out to you. If you have questions, stop into your local library, where staff will be happy to assist you. Lastly, if the Census hasn't heard from you, they will send a Census staff member to your door to collect your information in person.

Tell your friends, neighbors, relatives, and strangers how important the Census is to our community. Stuck in line? Talk about the Census—every person counted brings about $28,000 into Minnesota. Tempted to talk about the weather? Ask whether they've completed the Census yet. Waiter asks if you need anything? Tell him you need him to fill out his Census form. Someone asks you about sports? Tell them that Minnesota is "number two" in Census response rates, and we're losing to Wisconsin.

Hashtag on social media. I know, hashtags are scary (and soon to go out of fashion), but #EveryoneCounts in #Census2020. #WeCountMN!

If you have five or more hours a week and would like to earn some extra money, apply for a Census job. Current openings pay $19 per hour and include paid training and mileage reimbursement. Learn more at 2020census.gov/jobs.

The Census is a critical part of the US government. Please help Minnesota be the most responsive state in the nation (and finally beat Wisconsin)!

B-E boys fall to Ashby in South Sub-Section play

The Brandon-Evansville boys basketball team took on Ashby in the opening round of the South Sub-Section tournament March 5.

The Chargers had the best of the contest in the first half building a 28-15 halftime lead.

In the second half the Arrows chipped away at the deficit until taking their first lead late in the second half.

The two teams kept the game close in the closing minutes but the Arrows had the better of the struggle for a 49-45 win.

"This game was a tale of two halves. We did a nice job in the first half winning the rebounding battle and getting the 50/50 balls. The opposite happened in the second half and hats off to Ashby for making that happen.

"I've said it all year, this sub-section is an absolute grinder. Nothing is easy, and anything can happen. I look forward to following the remainder of the section 6A tournament," said B-E Coach Trent Hintermeister.

This was the last game for this year's B-E seniors and the coach appreciated their contributions to the program.

"I want to start out by saying thank you to our wonderful seniors who have done so much for our program. Charger basketball is moving in the right direction because of Andrew Johnson, Andrew Perrin, Jesse Perleberg, Keagan Schiele, Marshall Riedel, Sam Fuller, Seth Stelzer, Tanner Bitzan, and Tony Schaffran. These guys were great teammates, are fantastic role models, and will only continue to grow as leaders," said the coach.

Looking toward the future the coach feels the players who will be returning will keep the program in the right direction.

"Moving forward, it will be fun to watch Kobe Rieland, Brian Lauthen, Titus Fuller, and Tyler Bitzan step into bigger roles for us this summer and next season. We will be young and inexperienced next year, but I'm confident in our next group of players thanks to the path our seniors have laid for them," Hintermeister said.

The Charger-Ashby game was the closest of the first-round games. All others were decided by 15 points or more.

The Chargers ended the season at 18-9.

In other first round games it was WCA over KMS 89-53; Parkers Prairie over W-H-N 74-51; and Hancock over Battle Lake 61-44.

In the second-round March 7 it was WCA over Ashby 73-55 and Hancock over Parkers Prairie 61-58.

In the North Sub-Section first round it was: Henning over Rothsay 82-32; NYM over Lake Park-Audubon 55-54; NCE/UH over Park Christian 70-51; and Mahnomen over Hillcrest 64-47.

The North semifinals had Henning over NYM 85-48; and Mahnomen over NCE/UH 60-56.

In the South championship game it was WCA over Hancock 68-47 while Henning won the North with a 78-35 win over Mahnomen.

In the section title game it will be Henning against WCA March 12 at Concordia at 7 p.m.

B-E junior high girl basketball teams finish seasons

By Pam Schjei

The 8th Grade Charger Girls Junior High girls finished their regular season with a 10-3 regular season record. They lost only to Henning, Hancock, and Parkers Prairie. The team's highest scoring game was 43 against Battle Lake. The girls had the highest free-throw percentage in the regular season against Battle Lake also at 60%.

Many 7th grade girls played in the 8th grade games because we only had six girls on the 8th grade team. These 7th graders played well.

On February 15th, the girls traveled to Bertha-Hewitt for a tournament. They played Pillager first, winning 23-19. That put them in the championship game where they defeated Wadena-Deer Creek, 33-15, to take first place. Members of this team were Kylee Dingwall, Abby Slack, Jenna Sturges, Skylar Bitzan, Dru Blanchette, Claire Boesl, Hallie Richter, Taylor Dingwall, Courtney Brethorst, Haddie, Ana Santjer and Aja Quinn.

On Feb. 22 the girls went to Ashby for the Little 8 Conference Tournament. They faced Ashby first, winning 33-22. They shot 73% in free throw percentage that game. They went to the Championship game and played Underwood. The Charger girls were ahead at half time by eight. The Rockets made it a close game for awhile in the second half until the Chargers pulled ahead for good to win, 36-25 to take first place. Members of this team were Kylee Dingwall, Abby Slack, Jenna Sturges, Skylar Bitzan, Taylor Suchy, Dru Blanchette, Claire Boesl, Hallie Richter, Taylor Dingwall, Courtney Brethorst, Haddy Baune, Ana Santjer, Aja Quinn, Tahira Schaffran, Ellie Bahls.

"The girls improved so much by the end of the year. They put everything together and played their best games at the Little 8 conference tournament! It was fun to watch. I want to thank the players, parents, and fans for a great season!" said Pam Schjei, 8th grade coach.

Evansville Care Campus part of incentive program

More than 100 nursing homes across Minnesota have begun kicking off 36 projects to promote better care and quality of life for their residents. The projects, funded by the Minnesota Department of Human Services, range from efforts to improve mental health and social connections to reducing falls and infections.

At $6.7 million per year, the Performance-based Incentive Payment Program (PIPP) provides up to 5% in additional operating payments to nursing homes throughout the state. PIPP lets nursing homes dedicate resources to quality improvement and requires them to meet specific goals related to care, resident quality of life, workforce and other issues. Since 2006, the program has funded more than 300 projects. Eighty percent of Minnesota nursing homes have participated.

"Collectively, these performance improvement projects make a big difference and improve the lives of thousands of nursing home residents," said Minnesota Human Services Commissioner Jodi Harpstead. "We've seen ground breaking improvements in areas like resident sleep quality and falls prevention. Nursing facility staff are invested in making improvements and excited about sharing successes with their peers."

Below are some of the organizations receiving PIPP funding in this round, grouped by region. All grant amounts shown are for fiscal year 2020.

Central/West Central

- Evansville Care Center, Evansville, $10,143 to improve fall assessment, prevention, follow-up and interventions.

- Care Ventures Collaborative, multiple locations, $122,568 to develop a resident centered behavioral management program using evidenced-based practices to improve quality of life.

- Care Ventures Collaborative, multiple locations, $97,811 in 2020, to improve management of resident pain by implementing a comprehensive pain management system.

- CentraCare Health Collaborative, multiple locations, $56,931 in 2020, to create a telehealth pain program that will pair residents experiencing chronic pain with an integrated pain team.

- Clara City Care Center, Clara City, $9,805 to develop weight-loss prevention programming to reduce the number of pressure ulcers and weight loss.

- Cornerstone Nursing & Rehab Center, Bagley, $19,573 to provide a higher quality of life and care for residents by enhancing training and education of staff.

- Glencoe Regional Health Services, Glencoe, $16,303 to improve the dining experience by implementing an open breakfast and fine dining program.

- Good Samaritan Society, Howard Lake, $23,020 to improve the quality of life of residents with dementia and mental health challenges by expanding employee training and education through the Eden Alternative®, which aims to eliminate loneliness, helplessness and boredom.

- Good Samaritan Society, Battle Lake, $16,878 to improve quality of care by revising infection control program and further developing antibiotic stewardship.

- Johnson Memorial Health, Dawson, $11,486 to implement the Eden Alternative® with a focus on elder-centered community, loving companionship and meaningful activities.

- Lac qui Parle Health Network, multiple locations, $30,824 to enhance its pain management program by creating "meaningful moments" that improve residents' emotional well-being and quality of life.

- Saint Francis Health Services of Morris Collaborative, multiple locations, $88,669 to strengthen the quality of care for residents with Walk to Dine and balance exercise programs.

By Heidi Elmer

The 7th grade team finished the regular season with 9 wins and 8 losses. Over the course of the season the girls played hard and greatly improved their game.

They competed at the Bretha-

Hewitt tournament and received a second-place medal. The first game was against Pillager, they were a tough team but the Chargers beat them at the buzzer 32-31. The second game was against Wadena Deer Creek and unfortunately we didn't pull off the win but the girls played a great game against them.

"I want to thank all the 7th grade girls and their parents for an amazing season! I truly had fun and learned a lot!" said B-E Coach Heidi Elmer.

It is not too often that “What’s on the Horizon” talks about the same subject two months in a row. Coronavirus (COVID-19), however, warrants a closer look and an update. Public messages about every aspect of this viral illness are coming at us from every direction. The Centers for Disease Control (CDC), Minnesota Department of Health (MDH) and Horizon Public Health (HPH) are all working together to bring you the best information that is currently available in this quickly evolving situation.

Although much is still unknown about the virus, here are some things we do know:

- COVID-19 causes a viral respiratory illness, much like the common cold or influenza.
- The main symptoms of COVID-19 are fever, cough and shortness of breath.
- COVID-19 is able to spread from person-to-person.
- The majority of people infected experience mild illness, some people will become seriously ill.

Protecting yourself from COVID-19 involves the same recommendations for avoiding many respiratory illnesses such as influenza and the common cold.

- Wash your hands often and thoroughly (20 seconds) increased 3.5 percentage points. However, for our American Indian students, the four-year graduation rate has remained between 50 and 51 percent.

Fewer students are choosing to drop out of high school. From 2018 to 2019, the overall statewide high school dropout rate decreased from 4.6 percent to 4.4 percent, and also dropped for every student group. Over the last 10 years, the number of high school graduates enrolled in developmental education courses at Minnesota colleges and universities during their first two years has dropped by 10 percent, suggesting that as more Minnesota students graduate high school, they are leaving prepared for college level coursework.

“I am heartened to see a measurable decrease in the number of students who dropped out of high school,” said Commissioner Ricker. “That suggests that students are hearing the message that the adults in their lives are here to support them, and if they choose to persist with soap and water. Use hand sanitizer if soap and water are not readily available.

- Stay home when you are sick, this is critical to avoid passing the virus to others around you.
- Cover your cough/sneeze into your elbow. If you use a tissue, throw it in the garbage and wash your hands. Don’t cover your cough with your hands!
- Don’t touch your face, especially your eyes, nose and mouth.
- Regularly disinfect frequently touched surfaces like door knobs, light switches, remotes, etc.

You have heard the message from public health through the years, over and over, to prepare your family for an emergency situation. The federal website www.ready.gov has great checklists to help you consider steps you can take. We recommend that you take a look at your supplies to be prepared for being home for a couple of weeks if necessary. Food, water and medications are a great place to start, but remember if you go out and purchase more than what you need it creates empty store shelves for others. This is a time to be ready, but also remain calm in our approach.

Masks have flown off store shelves. Remember that masks are needed for healthcare workers and sick patients. They are not intended to protect healthy people in the community. The available supply needs to be for healthcare workers, so they are able to care for those who are critically ill. If you have respiratory symptoms and plan to seek medical care, please call ahead or check the organizations website for instructions.

in their education that we will persist right alongside them. I know that, with the help of my fellow commissioners as well as educators and families all across the state, Minnesota can be the first state in the nation to effectively end high school dropouts.”
